CEO's Corner

Charting the Next Chapter of Growth or A Decade Defined by Impact, A Future Driven by Vision

CEO - Angela Musgrove

As we publish the first edition of our quarterly newsletter, I find it fitting to pause and reflect on how far we've come, and more importantly, where we're going.

Since its formation ten years ago, Invest Turks and Caicos has established itself as a credible, strategic leader in advancing the economic growth agenda of the Islands.

With the support of our partners, we've facilitated significant investment into the Turks and Caicos Islands, expanded support to hundreds of local entrepreneurs, championed reforms to create a more enabling business environment, and consistently elevated the profile of the Islands as a credible, competitive investment destination.

Yet our story is not defined by metrics alone, it is one of people, purpose, and potential. Each small business supported, investment facilitated, and policy shaped has contributed to a more inclusive and resilient economy

The Turks and Caicos' economy is evolving. Our entrepreneurs are becoming more ambitious, new sectors are emerging, and we are becoming more focused and selective about the investors we engage. In this context, Invest TCI's role is both critical and complex. We are not simply facilitating transactions; we are shaping transformation. Looking ahead, we remain committed to championing investment that is sustainable, inclusive, and nationally aligned. Initiatives such as the ESG framework, expanded MSME support in Grand Turk, and the BRIDGE TCI linkages programme reflect this commitment.

The next chapter of our economic story will require shared effort. I invite all our partners, public and private, to engage with us as we build a future that delivers real opportunity across all islands. Engage with our programmes. Share your ideas. Challenge us to do more.

Here's to the next decade, grounded in purpose, driven by results, and united by vision.

“one of people, purpose, and potential.”

ESG in Focus:

A New Era of Responsible Investment

As Turks and Caicos advances its economic growth agenda, embedding Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) principles is not optional, it is a strategic necessity for sustainable, long-term growth.

Invest Turks and Caicos is taking a firm stance: investment must not only generate returns, but also protect our environment, strengthen our communities, and uphold responsible governance.

The Business Corner

Tip #1: Validate market demand before entry

Before making an investment, conduct sector-specific market validation. Whether in tourism, finance, or real estate, understanding local demand, competition, and regulatory pathways helps reduce risk and accelerate returns. Invest TCI can support you in aligning your entry with national development goals.

Aligned with the Government's Vision 2040 and the UN Sustainable Development Goals, our ESG approach ensures that development contributes meaningfully to national priorities. From climate resilience to local workforce development and ethical business conduct, ESG is the standard we expect from all investment partners.

We are developing a robust ESG Policy and Implementation Strategy to guide this commitment, integrating ESG into decision-making, monitoring impact, and embedding accountability through our Development Agreements. As we shape the next phase of development, our economic ambitions must be matched by a clear commitment to sustainability and shared prosperity.

This is not aspirational rhetoric, it is policy-backed, enforceable, and non-negotiable. We are committed to holding developers to these standards to ensure that every project delivers real value to our people, our environment, and our future.

Project Spotlight - Salterra Resort & Spa

Salterra Resort, a $130 million luxury development, opened in March on South Caicos. The property features 100 elegant guest rooms and a 3,600 square foot oceanfront ballroom with sweeping views and space for up to 250 guests. With more than 25 activities, the resort caters to both adventure seekers and guests looking for a peaceful escape.

Salterra's commitment to sustainability began before opening. The resort co-founded the South Caicos Coral Reef Consortium (SCCRC), a reef restoration initiative that has established underwater coral nurseries and an off-site lab. Hundreds of corals have already been replanted along the island's reefs.

In partnership with the School for Field Studies, the TCI Reef Fund, the Reef Institute, and the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds, Salterra continues to drive sustainable practices. From using solar energy to composting organic waste, the resort is setting a new standard for eco-friendly tourism in the Turks and Caicos Islands.

MSMEs at the Heart of Inclusive Growth

Marked as one of the most active fiscal years for the Programme In FY24/25 alone, 89 small businesses received Concession Orders through the MSME Programme, with a remarkable 92% of funding already committed for disbursement. This is more than numbers, it's a sign of confidence, capacity, and the unstoppable spirit of local enterprise.

The future of our economy is not just being built by big investors, it's being built one small business at a time. FY YTD 18 MSME projects have received Concession Orders $352,000 and Technical Assistance $25,000 across sectors and islands. This data signals continued progress in expanding economic opportunity and deepening sectoral diversification. As we look ahead, the MSME Programme remains a cornerstone of Invest TCI's commitment to equitable growth and local empowerment.

MSME in Action: Island Sprouts

Inspired by her husband's background in retail grocery, the couple Les and Holly Burkholder returned to the TCI with a vision to grow fresh, sustainable produce locally. Their goal was to reduce reliance on imports and improve access to quality produce. With support from the MSME Programme, they installed solar panels and battery storage to support their eco-friendly mission. The project was completed by Green Revolution.

Mrs. Burkholder acknowledged that starting out in agriculture came with challenges; however, the support from the MSME Programme was appreciated and has helped their business move toward self-sufficiency by significantly reducing their electricity costs.
